Robertson County Tobacco Sales Open

Only Small Amount of Weed Offered at First Sale Friday.

Springfield, Tenn., Dec. 10.—Yesterday was tobacco sales day in Robertson county. There were one and a half millions pounds of tobacco here to be sold on the loose leaf floors.

Only a small amount of tobacco was offered as it was the first sales day of the season, and tobacco is being rushed to market very rapidly thereby creating somewhat of a stagnation in the market. It looks like with reasonable deliveries the market will be in good condition at once. There has been only a very small offering of fine tobacco.

The sales will continue every day next week except Saturday. Leaf sold yesterday as high as $40. Lugs brought as high as $10 per hundred.

Clarksville Opening Sales Still Incomplete.

Clarksville, Tenn., Dec. 10.—Friday night found the opening of loose sales on the Clarksville market incomplete, despite the fact that all of the possible daylight had been utilized since 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, when it was found there was nearly 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco on the floors. Sales have been conducted on eight of the nine loose floors, and sales will be resumed Monday morning.

On account of the fact that the sales had not been completed, it was impossible to get an average for the opening, but the highest average reported from an individual floor was $22.45 from the Union warehouse. The highest price paid up to Friday night was $44 on the Durrett & Runyon floor for a small quantity of leaf.

Deliveries slowed up after Wednesday, and more relief from the congestion is anticipated next week.

Henderson Grower Gets $40.25
Henderson, Ky., Dec. 9.—All records were broken today when J. H. Eades of Henderson county sold 1,200 pounds of tobacco at a $40.25 average the hundred pounds.

He sold leaf at 49 cents a pound, lugs at 39 cents, and a small basket of trash at 65-4 cents. The next best average this season was 37 cents a pound.

Today 338,475 pounds were sold at $17.12 average.

Hopkinsville Tone Stronger
Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 9.—Today's sales of tobacco on the Hopkinsville market totaled 514,205 pounds, which paid the growers $81,031.89 or an average per 100 pounds of $15.76.

This average compares very favorably with the opening day average of $14.87 and is an indication of a steadier market and stronger tone to prices.

Houses where offerings graded highest show correspondingly higher averages, one reporting $17.56 on sales of 229,280 pounds, another $17.08 and a third $16.52. But prices on all floors ranged about the same grade for grade.

Christmas

SOUND over all waters, reach out from all lands,
The chorus of voices, the clasp of hands;
Sing hymns that were sung by the stars of the morn,
Sing songs of the angels when Jesus was born!

With glad jubilation
Bring hope to the nations!

The dark night is ending and dawn has begun;

Rise, hope of the ages, arise like the sun,

All speech flow to music, all hearts beat as one!

Sing the bridal of nations, with chorals of love,

Sing out the war culture and sing in the dove,

Till the hearts of the people keep time in accord

And the voice of the world is the voice of the Lord!

Clasp hands of the nations
In strong gratulations;

The dark night is ending and dawn has begun;

Rise, hope of the ages, arise like the sun,

All speech flow to music, all hearts beat as one!

Blow, bugles of battle, the marches of peace;

East, west, north and south, let the long quarrel cease.

Sing of glory to God, peace to men of good will!

Hark, joining in chorus,
The heavens bend o'er us!

The dark night is ending and dawn has begun;

Rise, hope of the ages, arise like the sun,

All speech flow to music, all hearts beat as one!

—John Greenleaf Whittier.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

THE best thing to give to your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your child, a good example; to a father, deference; to a mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity.—F. M. Balfour.

Ironing Board Cover.

Cut and hem a piece of unbleached muslin, about four inches wider and longer than your ironing board, so that it laps over about two inches under the board. Then crochet an edge of six chain and fasten, and so on until you have edged the entire piece. Lay the cloth on the board, turn over and lace it with a stout cord or tape, the same as you would lace a shoe—using, however, only about every fourth loop. The cover can be easily removed and washed.

Belding silk, all shades, at $2.50 yard, at Al Gardner's.

A CHRISTMAS CONFESSION

I didn't hear old Santa come—he never made a sound,
Just left for me a Christmas tree, with presents all around!
And tho I like each thing he brought, my books and all the rest,
I'll tell you confidentially: I love my dolly best!

THE FEAST OF LIGHTS

THE lights on the tree are said to be of Jewish origin. In the month of Kislev, of the Jewish year, corresponding nearly to our December, and the twenty-fifth day, Jews celebrated the feast of dedication of their temple. It had been dedicated on that day by Antiochus. It was dedicated by Judas Maccabeus, and, according to Jewish legend, sufficient oil was found in the temple to last for the seven-branched candlestick for eight days, and it would have taken eight days to prepare new oil. Accordingly the Jews were wont on the twenty-fifth day of Kislev in every house to light a candle, on the next day two, and on the eighth and last day of the feast, eight candles twinkled in every house.

It is not very easy to fix the exact date of the Nativity, but it fell most probably on the last day of Kislev, when every Jewish house in Bethlehem and Jerusalem was twinkling with lights. It is worthy of note that the German name for Christmas is Weihnachts (the night of dedication), as though it were associated with this feast. The Greeks also call Christmas the feast of lights, the name given to the dedication festival, Chanukah, by the Jews.

WHY THE CHRISTMAS KISSES?

Osculation, Allowed by Custom, Celebrates One of Most Charming Events in Tradition.

WHY should men kiss girls who stand under mistletoe?

Because they like it and because custom allows it. Every kiss under the mistletoe, however, is a kiss which celebrates one of the most charming events in Christmas tradition.

The romance goes back to the days of the gods of Scandinavia, when Balder the Beautiful was shot by Locke, the Spirit of Evil, with an arrow of mistletoe. But his mother, Venus of the North, restored him to life by saluting with kisses all who passed beneath a branch held aloft in her hand.

Thus it became an emblem of love and happy celebration. Ancient races held the plant in great veneration, particularly the Druids, who went in procession into the forests to collect it.

After New Year's day it was distributed among the people as a sacred and holy plant. If any part of the mistletoe touched the ground it was regarded as an omen of impending evil.

A FULL STOCKING.

First Christmas Tree

WHEN Ansgarius preached the White Christ to the vikings of the North, so runs the legend of the Christmas tree, the Lord sent his three messengers, Faith, Hope, and Love, to help light the first tree. Seeking one that should be high as hope, wide as love, and that bore the sign of the cross on every bough, they chose the balsam fir, which best of all the trees in the forest met the requirements. Perhaps that is a good reason why there clings about the Christmas tree in my old home that which has preserved it from being swept along in the flood of senseless luxury that has swamped so many things in our money-mad day. At least so it was then. Every time I see a tree studded with electric lights, garlands of tinsel gold festooning every branch, and hung with the hundred costly knickknacks the storekeepers invent year by year "to make trade," until the tree itself disappears entirely under its burden, I have a feeling that a fraud has been practiced on the kindly spirit of Yule.

Wax candles are the only real thing for a Christmas tree, candles of wax that mingle their perfume with that of the burning fir, not the by-product of some coal-oil or other abomination. What if the boughs do catch fire? They can be watched, and too many candles are tawdry, anyhow. Also, red apples, oranges and old-fashioned cornucopias made of colored paper, and made at home, look a hundred times better and fitter in the green; and so do drums and toy trumpets and waid-horns, and a rocking horse that need not have cost forty dollars.

Washing Windows.

If windows are washed when the sun is shining on them they dry before there is time to polish them, and look streaky. Always dust windows before washing them. Add a little ammonia to the water to make the glass shine and polish well.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

WHETHER we shout it or sing it, we must be sure to mean it; for if we really mean it when we say, "Merry Christmas, everybody," we will do all in our power to make Christmas a day of unselfish joy for all those within reach of our influence.

Christ came into the world to bring light which brings joy. He came to bring deliverance to men; to solve their difficult problems; to inspire a higher hope in the spirit of men. That is the cause of the deepest joy to mankind. Yes, Christmas is a joyful day as well as a sacred day.

It is a day for doing good deeds, as well as thinking good thoughts. It is not a day for receiving gifts only. There are so many opportunities for doing good, that we may receive joy a hundredfold, with the expenditure of just a little time and thought. There are many who have little; many who do not know the meaning of this day as you know it; many whose spirits are crushed by disaster. Remember them!—Boys' World.
